Where young writers can find print and online literary magazines to read, places to publish their own works, and legitimate contests. Some publish only young writers, some publish all ages for young readers. For specific submission guidelines, visit the publication's website. This is an ad-free page; publications and contests listed here have not paid to be included. This page is maintained by Editor Denise Hill, a teacher who loves to encourage young writers.

We're the place where girls connect & support each other while creating, poetry, artwork, stories, videos, and more. All fully moderated and proven to build confidence and healthy online behavior.

<http://polyphonyhs.com/>

Our mission is to create a high-quality literary magazine written, edited, and published by high school students. We strive to build respectful, mutually beneficial, writer-editor relationships that form a community devoted to improving students' literary skills in the areas of poetry, fiction, and creative non-fiction.
